CHANUKAH HAPPENINGS

Get out of your routines and celebrate the miracles in your life! Chanukah gives us the chance to see the light in the world around us, the things that bring us joy and warmth even in the midst of the winter’s cold and darkness. As bright as the candles burn, there is nothing warmer than the feeling of our community coming together to sing and pray, eat and celebrate. Attend one of these wonderful celebrations – or several of them – and ignite a spark of gratitude in your own life.

I’M A CULTURAL JEW: WINE
FRIDAY, JANUARY 9
7:30PM
One glass of wine for Shabbat Kiddush. Two glasses at a wedding ceremony. Four glasses at the Passover Seder. Mixing red and white at Tu B’Shvat. Too many glasses at Purim. Used both to enjoy the moment and to make it holy, wine plays a big role in Jewish tradition. In modern times, too, wine has impacted the trajectory of Jewish history.

The very first Zionist-Jewish settlement in the Land of Israel in the 19th century planted vineyards in our ancient homeland. Today, kosher and non-kosher wineries have popped up all over the State of Israel, producing world class wines that put Manischewitz to shame.

On this night, we will celebrate Shabbat with music, good company, and plenty of wine. If you’ve ever said, “I’m really not religious, I’m more of a cultural Jew” then this Shabbat experience is for you!

SNAPSHOT: YOUTH TIKKUN OLAM

Our youth put Judaism into action through numerous efforts to make our community a better place. We could not be prouder of the ways that they have represented Emanu-El and our Jewish heritage.

GILDA’S CLUB NOOGIEFEST

This year our Youth Group hosted the arts and crafts room at the Gilda’s Club Noogiefest. Noogiefest provides fun activities for youngsters and their families dealing with cancer.

BREAST CANCER WALK

Our Hineini-Act Now & Youth Group walked in the annual American Cancer Society Breast Cancer Walk at Manhattanville College in Purchase. We had a terrific time walking together as a community for this cause.

KRISTALLNACHT WALK TO THE GARDEN OF REMEMBERANCE

Hineini students and families joined together in a walk to the Garden of Remembrance in White Plains, and planted daffodils in honor of the 1.5 million children who died in the Holocaust. We raised money for the Holocaust and Human Rights Education Center’s Survivor Legacy Project.

THANK YOU, BELLA!

With her easy-going manner, Bella Thaler-Pepi has kept our books in order while adding warmth and kindness to our office. Bella will retire this month to spend more time with her husband Dan and to enjoy their home in North Carolina.

We wish Bella well in her retirement and thank her for all she has done to keep Emanu-El moving forward.
Board Buzz:

Host Family Program

This month the Board would like to share an update on the launch of our Host Family Program.

Board members have reached out to many of the newest members of our Congregation Emanu-El family, making a connection and inviting them to attend services as well as other temple activities. The response has been extremely positive.

We now invite current members of the congregation to participate in this fabulous program and become a host family.

If you are a congregant who would like to take an active role in our Host Family Program please contact Liz Grill at lizgrill@yahoo.com.

Get involved and let’s connect people to people.

Host Family Program Mission Statement

The mission of the Congregation Emanu-El of Westchester Host Family program is to create a warm and welcoming environment for all new families joining our congregation. The Host Family Program seeks to facilitate relationships between new and current congregant families thereby fostering a sense of Jewish community for all at Congregation Emanu-El.

- Current congregants will serve as “hosts” to new families by welcoming them into the Congregation; reaching out through a phone call and offering to help answer questions about the temple.
- Host families will encourage new families to participate in Emanu-El events by inviting them to services, community dinners and programs.
- Host families will also try to serve as a resource to connect new congregants with current members who share similar interests and demographics.

Ultimately, the Host Family Program goal is to connect new families to current members as well as strengthen the bonds among the entire congregation: connecting people to people.

RABBI’S MESSAGE

It was not quite an “epic fail”. Perhaps more of an “epic goof”. While our Scholar-in-Residence, Rabbi Richard Address, spoke to dozens of our congregants about the blessings and challenges of being part of the “sandwich” generation, I was reading my iPhone. I was oblivious to the stares of congregants wondering, “How could the rabbi be so rude by ignoring our guest and staring at his phone?!” Had I seen someone else doing the same, I would have been just as incredulous.

When it was pointed out to me a couple of days later by a very tactful congregant, I was mortified. But here’s the thing: I wasn’t emailing, texting, following Twitter or liking anything on Facebook. Instead, I was reading the Talmud text that was the subject of Rabbi Address’s lecture. I was following along! Unfortunately, I looked disrespectful and unengaged because I was reading a digital copy of the Talmud on my iPhone rather than following in a book.

These students were physically in the same place, but in every other way they were somewhere else.

Technology is a blessing and a curse. It connects us to one another with efficiency unknown to generations past. With the tap of a touchscreen we can share our lives privately and publicly, keeping everyone up-to-date in any way we choose. Technology also puts the information of the world at our finger tips. Need an answer? Just Google it. Even Wikipedia, the infamous crowd-sourced encyclopedia, plays a vital role for many of us when we need some quick information on a topic. In this season when we celebrate miracles, we cannot help but recognize the technological miracles of our day.

But all of that miraculous technology has a nefarious side as well. After teaching Confirmation class a few weeks ago, I walked down the hallway to find four students sitting in our lobby – staring at their phones. Instead of chatting and laughing with one another, they were plugged into their screens, their faces glowing blue. These students were physically in the same place, but in every other way they were somewhere else. We are not a Luddite tradition. Our heritage has always embraced science seeking to increase our understanding of the world. As a people who have always highly valued learning, we have to believe that any technology that spreads knowledge is a good thing. But we are also a tradition that values both rest and community – things directly threatened by technology.

Our work and obligations are – literally – in our pockets, making it nearly impossible to take a break from them, to find the rest that Judaism codified through the Sabbath thousands of years ago. Community too, is threatened by the technology we carry around every day. Rather than real conversation, we settle for 140 character tweets or show our approval by pressing “like” on someone’s Facebook post. Neither is a substitute for real, face-to-face conversation, friendship and community.

This is not a call to throw out our technology. Instead, it is a call to let technology supplement our lives rather than detract from them. Our synagogue can truly be the antidote to technology’s darker side. We learn from people and from each other rather than from a wiki-something-or-other. We pray without our phones (our annual teen twitter service aside!). We make a difference in the world by volunteering within the community rather than simply pressing “like” on a Facebook page that promotes a cause. We spend time with our families discussing the stories and values held by all the generations that came before us. The warm glow that we feel in our synagogue is not the glow of an iPhone screen, but the glow of the community, holiness and wisdom that we bring to one another.

May that glow light up our Chanukah celebrations and
RITUAL CORNER:
MI SHEBERACH

Each Friday evening at our Sabbath service, we offer a prayer for healing called the Mi Sheberach. Mi Sheberach means “May the one who blessed…”. It is a phrase used to start many prayers that ask God for particular blessings like health, wellness, peace, or prosperity. The prayer typically begins, “May the one who blessed our ancestors, Abraham, Isaac and Jacob, Sarah, Rebecca, Rachel and Leah…”. In this case, we then ask for healing of body, healing of mind or healing of spirit. We ask God for these blessings not based on our own merit, but on the merit of our ancestors.

Reform Judaism is not superstitious. We don’t ask God for a magical cure when we face illness. Instead, our prayer asks that those who are sick find the strength they need to heal. We ask that their caregivers find fortitude. We ask for their doctors to be blessed with wisdom and skill. We ask that they feel the warmth and support of family and friends. Mostly, we ask for a sense of wholeness, a sense of connection to our community and to the Divine Mystery that animates the universe.

Seeking these spiritual gifts through the words of the Mi Sheberach can bring a sense of transcendence and peace even in the most dire circumstances.

The next time you come to services on a Friday night, please write down the name of anyone in need of healing of body, mind or spirit on the sheet at the entrance to the sanctuary. Then, let these ancient words bring you – and your loved ones – a measure of comfort.

CHANUKAH FAMILY DINNER & SERVICE

FRIDAY, DECEMBER 19
DINNER 6:30PM
SERVICE 7:30PM

B.Y.O.M. Bring Your Own Menorah to help light up the sanctuary during this service. Our teachers, teaching assistants and office assistants will be honored.

Dinner: $15 per child, $20 per adult, $60 family maximum.

RSVP for dinner to Denise at 914-967-4382 x12 or dburke@congregationemanuel.org.
There’s “Chanukah in Santa Monica,” and Adam Sandler’s famous “Chanukah Song.” The dreidle song aside, the most famous of Chanukah songs is undoubtedly “Maoz Tzur - Rock of Ages.” In Ashkenazi homes and synagogues, this hymn of thanksgiving is sung after the kindling of the Chanukah lights. The text was composed in the 13th century by Mordechai, whose name as author appears as an acrostic (the first Hebrew letter of the initial five stanzas spell out Mordechai’s name).

The theme of “Maoz Tzur” is a familiar one: God's unfailing redemption of the people Israel. After an opening stanza promising thanksgiving to God now and always, the poet recalls four moments of divine intervention in Jewish history in chronological order: Egypt, Babylonia, Persia, and the Greeks of the Chanukah story. Sometime in the 16th century, a somewhat controversial sixth verse was added, a blunt plea for God to intervene again and take revenge against the "wicked kingdom". These days, most of us make it through one Hebrew stanza at best! After all, there are presents to open and latkes to eat.

While today’s well known tune is different from the one sung in the Middle Ages, our familiar melody is venerable and centuries old; it originated in Germany and seems to be a sort of mash-up of different German folk songs – bits of a Protestant church hymn here, bits of a melody reminiscent of a very popular 1504 battle-song there. Strains of folksongs from German culture penetrated into the Ghetto, and became fused into this tune that was used for the joyous theme of the victory of the Maccabees over the Greeks. This “borrowing” of melodies, from music heard in popular culture, was (and still is!) common in the music of both the church and synagogue. It is only natural; Jewish music has always absorbed elements of the cultures in which we have found ourselves.

If you are in that sweet spot of seeing your children or grandchildren in their holiday assemblies, you may hear songs from your own childhood like “Chanukah, O Chanukah!” along with the latest ecumenical winter songs (“The Reindeer Twist,” anyone?) or even the likes of “Chanukah Bamba”. While the quality of these songs varies, our Chanukah music evolves to reflect the culture in which we live. At the same time, “Maoz Tzur - Rock of Ages” persists, withstanding the test of time and living up to its title as a rock of our musical heritage.

I have just returned from a four-day conference in New Orleans with 165 of my fellow Executive Directors (EDs) and Temple Administrators, mostly representing congregations in the Reform Movement, and all members of NATA (National Association of Temple Administrators). Thirty-two states were represented in the Big Easy (as New Orleans has long been nicknamed) and there were even attendees from Canada and Australia.

I am very grateful to the congregation and to the Board for sponsoring my attendance at this important event. Why, one might ask, is it worthwhile to spend time with fellow EDs? There are many reasons why this trip was valuable. The synagogues represented ranged in membership size from 100 to 2500 families. Regardless of size, many have dealt or are dealing with: aging buildings and infrastructure; IT software and hardware problems; not enough new members or volunteers; falling religious school enrollment or student populations that are not increasing fast enough; staff turnover and clergy transitions; donor and fundraising fatigue; too few or too many programs; competition from other synagogues; demographic imbalances; accounting problems; too much or too little Board involvement; lack of a defined vision or purpose; and so many other issues.

It is an invaluable tool for me to be able to seek advice and best practice help from colleagues who have insight into many of the same issues. I networked extensively while there, and know that many of the EDs with whom I bonded, will be available to me when I need help.

I feel extremely blessed that we are in very good shape, relative to many other congregations. We have had the foresight to tackle issues head on, and not to hide our collective heads in the sand when faced with tough questions.

We try hard to work together for the sake of the entire community, recognize that sacrifices may have to be made, willingly assume responsibility when asked to volunteer our time and resources, and all the while, continue to strive to be welcoming and caring.

Recently, I celebrated my one-year anniversary here at Congregation Emanu-El and I am so very thankful to all of you for giving me this opportunity to be your Executive Director.

Todah! Thank you.
CHANUKAH BLESSINGS DIRECTIONS

Place the candles in the Menorah from right to left, one for each day of the festival (i.e. on the third night, you should have 3 candles plus the shemesh candle used to light the others).

After reciting the blessings below, light the candles from left to right.

Lighting the Candles

Baruch atah, Adonai Eloheinu, Melech haolam, asher kid’shanu b’mitzvotav v’sivnu l’hadlik ner shel Chanukah.
We praise You, Eternal God, Sovereign of the universe, You hallow us with Your Commandments, and command us to kindle the Chanukah lights.

Baruch atah, Adonai Eloheinu, Melech haolam, she-asah nisim liavoteinu bayanim haheim ba’z’man hazeh.
We praise You, Eternal God, Sovereign of the universe, You showed wonders to our ancestors in days of old and at this season.

First Night Only

Baruch atah, Adonai Eloheinu, Melech haolam, shehecheyanu v’kiy’manu v’hiq’manu laz’man hazeh.
We praise You, Eternal God, Sovereign of the universe, for giving us life, for sustaining us, and for enabling us to reach this season.

Maoz Tzur - Rock of Ages (Sung after lighting the candles)

Maoz tsur y’shuati, l’cha na-ed l’shabei-ach tikon beit t’filati. V’sham todah n’zabei-ach l’eit tachin macbei-ach, mitzar ham’nabei-ach az egmor b’shir mizmor chanukat hamizbei-ach
Rock of Ages let our song praise Your saving power.
You amidst the raging foes were our sheltering tower.
Furious they assailed us but Your arm availed us.
And Your word broke their sword when our own strength failed us.

Please note: The text in the image is in both English and Hebrew.

SOCIAL JUSTICE SHABBAT
FRIDAY, JANUARY 16
7:30PM

“We have learned to fly in the air like birds and swim in the sea like fish; But we have not learned the simple act of living together as brothers and sisters.”
- Rev. Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr.

Each year at this time we honor the life and work of the Rev. Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. – and more broadly, the important work of social justice. As Jews working toward a more just society, we know that the vital work of the civil rights movement is not complete, and we are called at this time to renew our commitment to this work. We are cognizant that we must confront our own civil rights challenges today. From protecting voting rights to police-community relations, from ensuring equal treatment for LGBTQ Americans to affirming the rights of the disabled, there is still much work to be done.

This meaningful service will feature social justice themed readings and music.

CARING COMMUNITY: BECOMING AN ACTIVE MEMBER OF THE CARING COMMUNITY

There are so many ways to become involved at our temple, and the Caring Community is one way to offer your time without worrying that you may over-commit.

Our goal is to offer a meal of comfort in times of loss, recuperation, or in celebration of a new family member. These dinners come from one congregant to another. We maintain an e-mail list of those who might be available when a need arises, and we reach out to those who have volunteered to be on the list. If you are not available, you don’t reply; if you are, that is excellent. We have no budget – you would make or purchase whatever you feel comfortable providing.

We may come from many different towns, but we have a special community of which you are an integral part. If you are not already an active participant in the Caring Community, please consider joining our efforts to be there for our fellow members in a meaningful, tangible way.

You can read more about us on the temple website, and we look forward to hearing from you if you would like to become more involved, or if you know of someone who needs our services. We wish you continued light as the days get shorter.

Hinda’s commitment, her attention to detail, and her passion for helping fellow congregants in times of need have inspired all the members of our congregation.

NO PLACE ON EARTH
APRIL 12
7:00PM

Filmmaker Janet Tobias traces the harrowing tale of 38 Ukranian Jews who survived the Holocaust by fleeing into caves for 18 months.

Directed by Janet Tobias.
You have all heard or used the expression, “It’s a small Jewish world” and as diverse as our Jewish community is, we do have so much in common. On Sunday, November 23, our Religious School families “traveled” to Israel, Yemen, Ethiopia, China, Russia, and Italy to share a Jewish experience where they discovered exciting differences and close connections with different Jewish cultures.

What always brings Jewish people together? FOOD OF COURSE! Well, our families tasted Biscotti di Roma from Pitigliano, Italy, rugalach from Russia, and Yemenite treats. They made a special Yemenite basket to hold their goodies and then prepared food for a Thanksgiving dinner at HOPE House in Port Chester, NY.

Jewish people are known as the “people of the book” and our most treasured text, our Torah, is kept in an ark, lit by an eternal light in our holy sanctuary. Our families reconstructed the temple used by the Jewish community in Kaipheng, China, complete with an inner courtyard containing a sanctuary with its ark and eternal light. This community thrived from the 12th century to the mid-19th century when assimilation caused its demise. Yemenite Jews date their origins to the fall of the last temple, maintaining rituals and traditions taken directly from the Torah. After living in Yemen for almost 2,000 years, they were airlifted to Israel during “Operation Magic Carpet” in 1949.

What else unites Jewish people from all over the world – our ancient language, Hebrew. Families began their travels in our sanctuary worshipping together with Cantor Stone and rabbinic intern Chase Foster. We recited the same prayers, in the same language that families in Pitigliano, Jerusalem, Yemen, Ethiopia or Kaipheng would use in their services today or hundreds, even thousands of years ago.

And finally, Jews connect through the values and ethics contained in our Torah and taught by our Prophets and leaders of all of our communities. We live the words that tell us to love our neighbor as ourselves and treat others the way that we would like to be treated.

At the end of a morning of learning together, our families created care packages for Israeli soldiers, cooked for the residents of HOPE House, helped make blankets for Ebola clinics in Africa, and put together packages of books for the children at Blythedale Children’s Hospital.

We live in different climates, wear different clothes, sing different songs and dance to different rhythms. But we share a past and a tradition. The words of our Torah that tell us how God told Abraham to leave his home and go to a land where our descendants “will be as numerous as the stars in the sky”.

On November 23, our families spent the morning learning together, experiencing the uniqueness of the communities of Abraham’s descendants and discovering what connects us all.

MESSAGE FROM OUR YOUTH GROUP CO-PRESIDENT: MIDNIGHT RUN

This fall, I went on my second Midnight Run. I was nervous, since it was a Sunday night and I thought that I could have been spending my time on class work, but also enthralled with what could happen. On my last Midnight Run, I was in middle school, and could not comprehend the impact of our charitable actions.

The bus took off, and as I read some articles on my phone, I started to attempt to visualize what my experience would be like. I thought of what kinds of people I would meet on the street in New York City. Granted, though I do go to school in the Bronx and spend ample time in the city, I did not know what it would be like to stand on the street and offer clothes and food to people. As I offered people food, I realized that each person had a story – a woman offered a prayer for me, and a man spoke of his long-lost children.

What I learned from my experience is that doing these small charitable acts helps me connect with people and teaches me to be more considerate of other people’s circumstances.
